South Georgian Bay is experiencing a major beverage renaissance. Once a hotbed for bootleggers during Prohibition, the area now boasts several thriving (and completely above-board) drink producers.

VQA wineries, craft breweries and heritage cideries are using locally-grown grapes, hops and apples to produce some of the very best beverages in North America. The multiple awards our producers have brought home is ample proof that we brew it right.

CIDER CO.

THE DUXBURY CIDER CO. MEAFORD

We are not yet open to the public. See below for availability.

The Duxbury Cider Co produces old-style ciders in a new world fashion by delivering continental-style ciders that are dry, crisp and effervescent with a robust refreshing taste.

We use only Georgian Bay apples including heritage varieties. We produce two ciders, the original Duxbury Draft and the Tilted Barn dry-hopped cider, made with locally grown organic hops from the Bighead Hop Farm.

You can find Duxbury Cider at a limited number of fine establishments in Meaford, Thornbury, Collingwood, Wasaga Beach and Toronto.
